Procedural History

Not applicable.

Background Information

On July 21, 2016, the Governor signed Chapter 105 of the Laws of 2016, which added a new section 409-l to the Education law to require that each public school, including charter schools, post the child abuse hotline number and ensure that it is clearly visible in a location that is readily accessible for students. Specifically, the new law requires every public school, including charter schools, to post in English and in Spanish the toll-free telephone number operated by the New York State Office of Children and Family Services (OCFS) to receive reports of child abuse or neglect and directions for accessing the OCFS website. The new law requires the Commissioner to promulgate regulations to implement the new law on or before its effective date of January 17, 2017.

The proposed amendment implements Education Law §409-l by requiring:

- each public school, including charter schools, to post in English and in Spanish the toll-free telephone number (1-800-342-3720) operated by OCFS to receive reports of child abuse or neglect and the following website link to access the OCFS website: <http://ocfs.ny.gov/main/cps/>. Each school must post such information in clearly visible locations so that it is readily accessible for students and faculty by:
  - posting such information on the district and schools' website(s), where one exists;
  - posting such information in highly-visible areas of school buildings;
  - making such information available at the district and school building-level administrative offices, where applicable;
  - providing such information to parents and persons in parental relation at least once per school year in a manner as determined by the school including, but not limited to, through electronic communication and/or sending such information home with students; and
  - providing each teacher and administrator in the school with such information.

If adopted at the January 2017 Regents meeting, the proposed amendment will be effective as an emergency rule on January 17, 2017, and as a permanent rule on January 25, 2017.
